

Master of Global Ethics and Leadership (MGEL)

Syllabus

Programme Duration: 3–5+ Years (Flexible, Self-Paced)

Mode of Delivery: Remote Learning

Programme Level: Equivalent to doctoral-level study, designed for experienced professionals and advanced scholars.

Programme Overview

The Master of Global Ethics and Leadership (MGEL) is a rigorous and comprehensive programme, designed to provide advanced studies in ethics, leadership, and global societal challenges. Structured to mirror the depth and breadth of a PhD programme, it enables students to work at their own pace over 3–5+ years, depending on their prior educational background, professional commitments, and personal goals.

Students will engage in advanced research, interdisciplinary coursework, and original contributions to the field of ethics and leadership, culminating in a doctoral-level dissertation or applied leadership project.

Programme Structure

The MGEL programme consists of four key stages:

1. Foundational Coursework (Year 1)
2. Advanced Research and Specialisation (Year 2–3)
3. Field Application and Leadership Practice (Year 3–4)
4. Dissertation/Capstone Project (Year 4–5+)
